ASSIGNMENT WEEK 8

Public Speaking

July - October 2026

Full Marks: 10

I. Given below are some statements based on video lectures. Identify them and write (T) against True and (F) against False statements. (Marks: 1*4)

1. Rod A. Martin's four styles of humour mentioned are affiliative, self-enhancing, aggressive, and self-defeating. T
2. The primary purpose of an exit interview is to gather candid feedback from a departing empl)oyee to identify organisational flaws and improve company culture. T
3. Pre-interview research is highlighted as an absolute necessity to construct relevant, contextual answers and demonstrate genuine interest. T
4. The main goal of an unstructured interview is to scare the candidate and make them feel defensive. F

II. Fill in the blanks with the suitable options given in brackets. (Marks: 1*3)

1. Group interviews usually look out for the _____of the candidate. (leadership skills/ communication skills/ presentation skills/ dressing skills)
2. The laddering framework is theoretically rooted in psychologist Kevin Olson's _____ Chain Theory. (End-to-end/ Means-End/ Top-to-bottom/ right-to-left)
3. The "Row Boat Technique" is a structural strategy candidates use to maintain balance, rhythm, and _____ when responding to a panel. (Control/ Contract/expand/ relax)

III. Given below are multiple-choice questions with four options. Select the most suitable option as your answer. (Marks: 1*3)

1. The lecturer warns of a hazard when companies use a "one size fit" approach in structured interviews. What is that hazard?

   A. It becomes too costly
   B. It may be redundant or may not work in certain situations
   C. It increases interviewer bias
   D. It prevents follow-up questions

2. The STAR method recommended for situational or behavioral interviews stands for:

A. Situation, Task, Action, Result
B. Strategy, Tactics, Analysis, Review
C. Statement, Testimony, Argument, Response
D. Survey, Test, Assess, Report

3. Which nonverbal behaviors does the speaker explicitly recommend maintaining during an interview?

A. Frequent fidgeting and changing positions
B. Avoiding eye contact to appear humble
C. Careful dress, confident bearing, handshake when appropriate, and steady eye contact
D. Using many fillers like "uh" and "um" to sound natural